

PRAASU

Elegant and unique Praasu combines outdoor kitchen and fireplace. Praasu is Finnish word meaning perceptible fire which can be sensed with all the senses.

PLEASING ATMOSPHERE AND FLAVOR OF NATURAL WOOD FIRE

In addition to cooking, Praasu works as fireplace when frying surface is opened. Praasu is versatile outdoor kitchen fireplace which can be used both wood and charcoal.

UNIQUE DESIGN AND PERFECT USABILITY

Due to the sleek and modern looks and perfected usability, Praasu is pleasure to use and view. It can be used as wood-burning cooktop and as large frying surface or as wood and charcoal barbeque. Different temperature zones in the large and thick carbon steel frying area allow to cook, fry, barbeque at the same time for a large number of people. Praasu works for professionals as well as for cooking enthusiasts.

FEELING OF QUALITY

Due to the quality of manufacturing and high-quality materials used, Praasu provides prolonged worry-free usage of the product.

Exterior part of Praasu is made of stainless steel coated with pine textured painted. The furnace material is heat resistant stainless steel. Smoke duct is made of stainless steel. Frying surface is made of steel and grate out of cast iron.

SOPHISTICATED, SAFE AND ENVIRONMENTALLY FRIENDLY

Wood is environmentally friendly fuel for barbequing with very low carbon footprint. Praasu has taken wood combustion into the next level by the furnace double wall construction. Double wall construction is used to conduct secondary air at the top of the furnace. Secondary air ensures the pure combustion of wood. The double wall construction prevents heat conduction to the exterior cover making Praasu safe to use.
